They need to be given authentic knowledge, which will help them to understand the process of growing up with reference to sexual and reproductive health. They need to be given the guidance and education to be able to attain the level of maturity required to make responsible and informed decisions.

The programme was inaugurated by Mr. T.G. Vittal, volunteer of FPAI. The importance of the Manual for Peer Educators was stressed by Mr. V.K. N. Murthy, Bellary Branch Manager.

A training Programme was organized for young people with a view to encourage young people to take an active role in the Association’s activities. Peer Educators were trained on creating awareness and develop as responsible youth.

The focus was on puberty and growing up, attraction to the opposite sex and differentiation between love and infatuation during that period and relationship building. It is universally accepted that the health needs, and particularly the sexual and reproductive health (SRH) needs of adolescents and young people continue to be ignored and neglected.

Through the Project ‘Human Resource Development for SRH Care Services’ six training courses were conducted from July to September. A total of 112 (Female – 62 and Male – 50) individuals were trained in the Counselling Course for Trauma, Guilt and Self Esteem, Use of Social Media, Basic Counselling Skills, Sex and Sexuality Counselling, and Leadership and Management.

Participants represented civil society organizations and academic institutions such as Green Foundation, Nagpur; Asha Sadan Social Center, Vasco; Love and Care India Trust, Nagpur; and Central University of Karnataka, Gulbarga. Use of interactive training methodology and appropriate content was appreciated by the participants in all the six courses.

The Project was initiated in 2011 at three locations – Agra, Ahmadabad and Bangalore Branches and in 2015 it has been scaled up to include three additional Branches - Panchkula, Madurai and Srinagar. Participants at the Review Meeting included Branch Managers, Programme Officers and M & E officers from the six Branches. Ms. Amita Devi, Director Adolescents, FPAI welcomed the participants and dignitaries to the workshop. Dr. Kalpana Apte, Senior Assistant Secretary General (Programme Implementation), FPAI, gave the Opening Remarks, while Ms. Geeta Sethi, Secretary General, FPAI delivered the keynote address and Mr. Umesh Akarthy, President, FPAI delivered the inaugural address.

The objective of the workshop was to review the programmes and financial aspects of the branches. The branches presented their progress in last six months and discussed challenges faced by them while conducting Comprehensive Sexuality Education (CSE) in communities and schools. Ms. Usha R, Monitoring & Evaluation Manager, FPAI, presented the service statistics of the branches from 2011 to June 2015, which showed that the number of services has increased in the first half of 2015. There were discussions on IPPF's Strategic Framework 2016-2022, which helped the participants to be aware of the organization's next strategic move. Dr. Apte's session on value clarification on abortion helped participants understand their roles as service providers while providing abortion related services. There were discussions on the budget utilisation and changes facilitated by Ms. Amita. She also shared a presentation about Corporate Social Responsibility for the branches to be able to take up CSR roles. The meeting came to an end with intense discussions on sustainability plans as it was the last year of the project.
“HOPE GIVES CONFIDENCE IN LIFE”

Hope’ is something a person needs to cope with the difficulties in life. But what if someone loses this one thing that will make him standing against the tides of our modern society? This is a story of a young boy, who faced barriers that children of his age wouldn’t know its meaning. He had to go through the challenges that life gave him.

This is a story of a boy named Sandeep (name changed), who lost his parents who were HIV+, at the age of three. With only his grandmother and sister who took care of him, he understood the essence of living in a world of his own creation, where he had to face the judgmental questions from community members.

Belonging to a poor family in a village, Sandeep was deprived of many things in life. However, he was not affected by peer pressure to indulge in harmful lifestyles. Instead, he embraced himself in a hobby and became a Magician. Being HIV+ himself he faced a number of barriers to go ahead. However, he never gave up hope! He overcame the barriers of investment for accessories and instruments and carried on with confidence in his shows.

The Bellary Branch provided supported Sundeep to become a Magician and gave the necessary care when he faced weakness due to his ill health. Furthermore, staff members contributed Rs. 1200 towards his college fees and other material to carry on with his Magic Show.

In 1989 the UNDP Governing Council declared 11 July as World Population Day to focus attention on the urgency and importance of population issues in the context of overall development plans and programmes and the need to find solutions for these issues. Despite many efforts, population in India is growing exponentially and is estimated to be 1.27 billion. It is the second most populous country in the world. Projections indicate that it will become most populous in the world by 2050. This has implications on sustainability, urbanization, access to health services and youth empowerment among others.

The theme for 2015 World Population Day is Vulnerable Populations in Emergencies. The world is seeing a record number of people displaced by crises – some 60 million according to the latest UN figures.

With the theme “Blogging for Social Change”, a three day training workshop on “Use of Social Media for Advocating on Young People’s Sexual Reproductive Health and Rights” was organised for youth volunteers in July, at Mumbai. 19 youth volunteers from 15 FPA India Branches participated in the workshop.

The objective of the workshop was to build skills of the participants in using social media - particularly blogging - so that they can advocate on issues concerning young people’s SRHR and also be able to share innovative work done by their Branch on the digital platform.

Experts and social activists were invited as resource persons to train youths on blogging and online campaigning. Practical sessions were conducted for youth volunteers in which they created their blog on medium.com, a website. Sessions were conducted on cyber safety and security to enable youths to be protective against cyber bullying. An action plan was developed at the end of the workshop and also a closed group called “FPAI Young Bloggers” was created on Facebook for youth volunteers to share their blogs and exchange views on specific social themes regularly.

FAMILY PLANNING (FP) 2020 PLEDGE TRACKER
IPPF has initiated a project called “Joining Voices”. It is an advocacy project that aims to safeguard and strengthen financial commitments to reproductive health and family planning, and reinforce political leadership on universal access.

FPAI was requested to fill the FP2020 pledge-tracking tool. Based on this, a meeting “Joining Voices – FP 2020: Meeting with Partners in South Asia” was organized by IPPF in Colombo, in August. The Member Associations represented were Pakistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, India and Sri Lanka. Sri Lanka has not made any commitments for the FP 2020. From India, apart from the MA focal point person, there was a representative from Population Foundation of India (PFI), Ms. Poornam Muttreja, Executive Director, who is a member of the reference group FP2020.

The objectives of the meeting were: (a) Cross learning and sharing of advocacy actions for FP2020 commitments, among the IPPF SAR MAs and national CSO partners and (b) Review the progress made under the “Joining Voices” project, and identify opportunities for high-impact regional and international coordination.

IPPF and FPA India together have prepared a factsheet on FP2020. This factsheet will be launched at the International Conference on Family Planning, to be held in Indonesia.
